

Thursday in the Octave of Easter

Gospel text (Lk 24,35-48): Jesus stood in their midst and said to them, “Peace be with you.”

Illustration: Pili Piñero

Today we are still celebrating the resurrection of Jesus. Now we see that He appears before the Apostles, who were still afraid and hiding in a house. The Lord addresses them by wishing them the peace. He asks them to believe in Him: -Look, this is my flesh and bones, I am not a ghost! He even eats in front of them. Then, he says a few words to instruct and give them courage.

- Fear? Why? God lives, God sees us, God speaks to us, God is with us... Talk to him!