

Monday 4th (B & C) of Easter

Gospel text (Jn 10,1-10): «He calls each of his sheep by name and leads them out».

Today, again, Jesus Christ tells us that God is our father. And like all the fathers in the world, He calls each one of us by our own name. To Him we are not merely one of many. Jesus also warns us of false shepherds: they are those that do not tell us the truth or set a good example. But Jesus defends us from the “wolves”.

—In life we will come across thieves and robbers: we ought not to listen to them.
—Jesus, I want to hear you; You are the door to heaven.
