

Monday 4th (A) of Easter

Gospel text (Jn 10,11-18): «I am the good shepherd. I know my own».

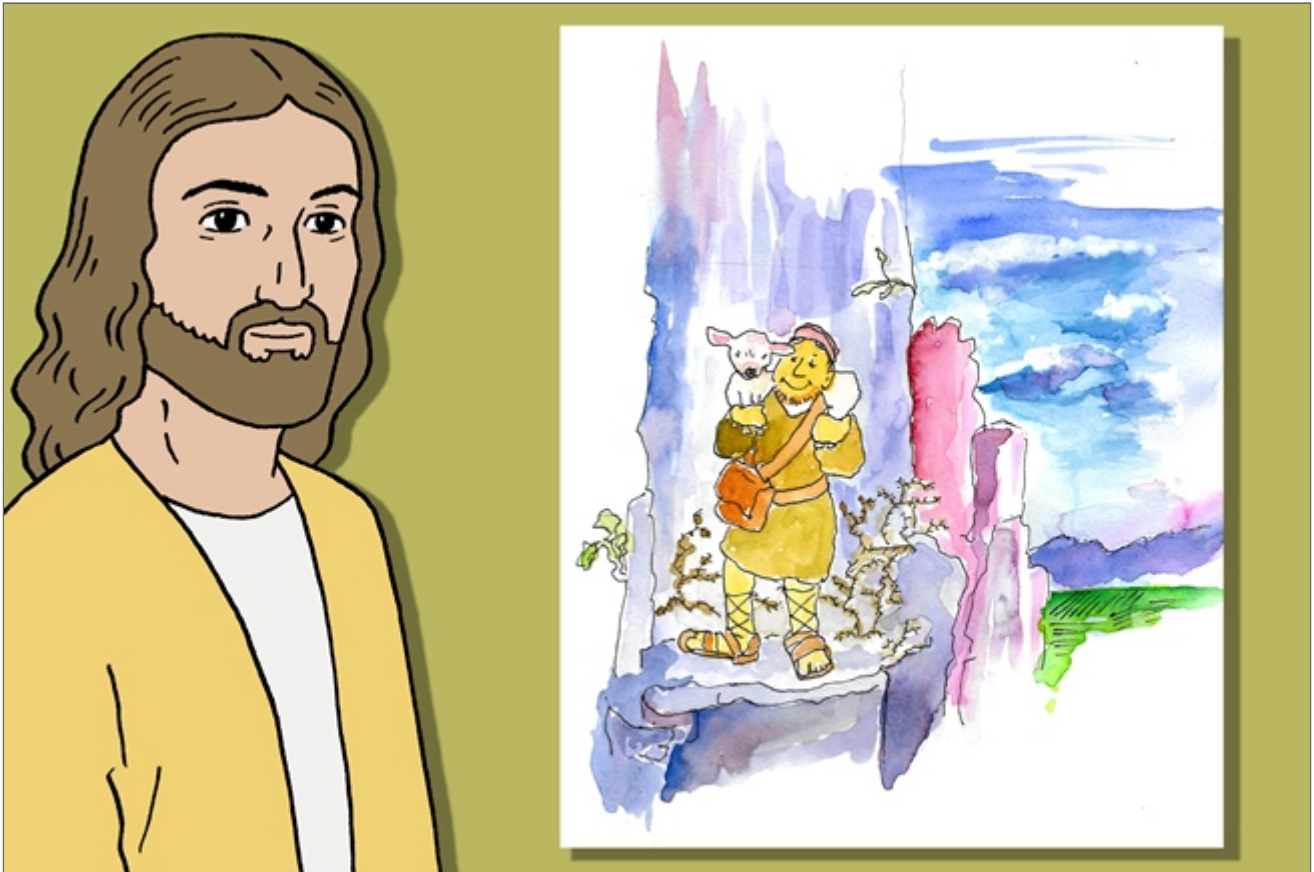

Illustration: Fr. Lluís Raventós Artés

Today Jesus says He knows each of us because He is a good shepherd. How lucky are we! We have a God that loves us for our own name and has given us a guardian angel to protect us. God, our good shepherd has given his life to open the gate to heaven for us.

Heaven is the Father's home: one can only be there with true love. He guides us through that path through his example and teachings, with the sacrifice of his life.