

Thursday of the Fourth Week of Easter

Gospel text (Jn 13,16-20): When Jesus had washed the disciples' feet...

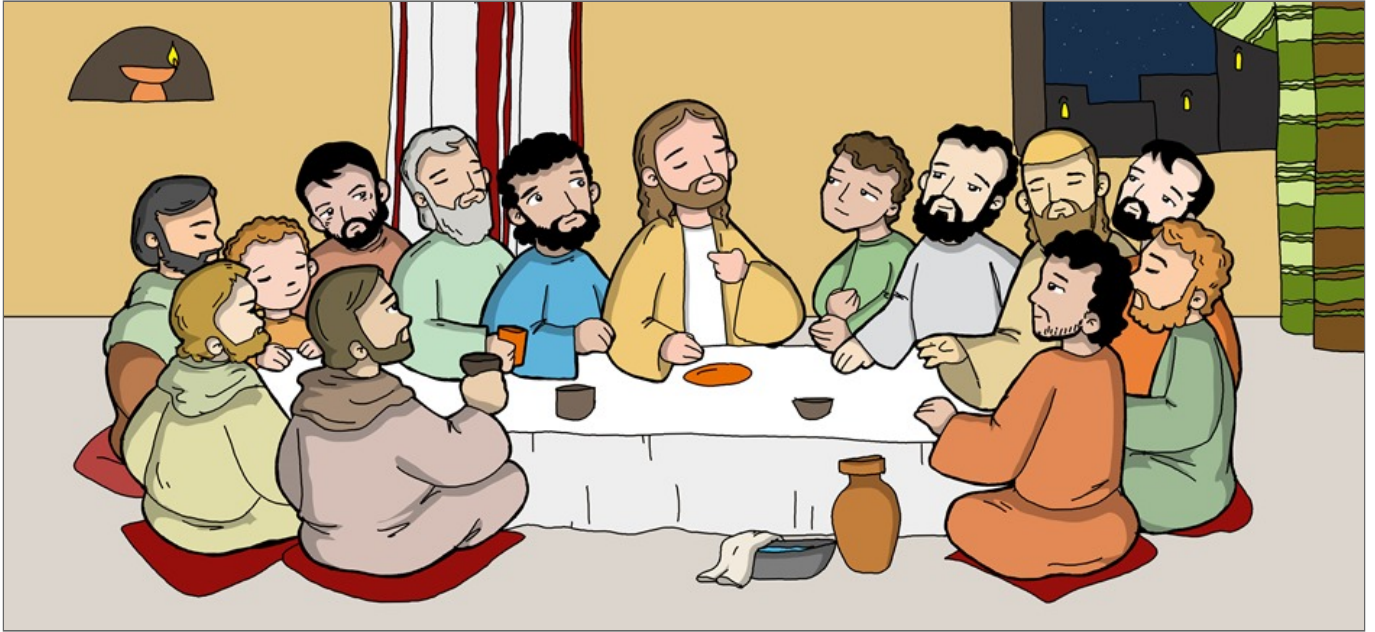

Illustration: Pili Piñero

Today, Jesus surprises the Apostles: someone is going to betray him. They remain sad. Jesus tells them to be prepared.

Just “someone” - Jesus- that has God’s eternal gaze can say what will happen. Only when that happens, they will know that Jesus is “I am”. Centuries ago, when Moses asked God what his name was, God replied “I am”...

- Jesus washes my feet ... his blood for me. Jesus do not allow that I betray you!