

Sunday 12th (A) in Ordinary Time

Gospel text (Mt 10,26-33): Jesus said to his apostles: «Do not be afraid. There is nothing covered that will not be uncovered, and nothing hidden that will not be made known».

Today Jesus gives us hope. Sometimes there is a lot of noise in the world: on the street, on the television ... More often than not, a lot of noise accompanied by bad news. And this scares us all. God, on the other hand, acts the other way round: little noise and much good. Do you remember Herod? Lots of noise and nothing good. He did not get anything. Governor Pilate? ...

-Herod is over; Pontius Pilate is over ... Here He who reigns is Jesus, the eternal God. If you pray, you will hear Him!
