

November 1st: All Saints

Gospel text (Mt 5,1-12a): Jesus spoke and began to teach them: «Fortunate are those who are poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven».

Illustration: Pili Piñero

Today the Church honors all the people who has already crossed the border of time and are "living" in the eternal peace of Heaven. There are our ancestors, family and dear friends! And there they await us! But where is "there"? How is this "there"? Saint Paul tells us that no man has not seen nor imagined what God has prepared for those who love Him.

- Imagine a world where God is "everything for all" (where everyone admires the greatness of God and thinks about the others): it's the world of the poor in spirit! (just those who don't live full of themselves as "self-sufficient ghosts").